First Union Center

The First Union Center showcases the best in Philadelphia sports and entertainment with the Philadelphia 76ers, Flyers, Wings, premier concerts, family shows and sporting events.

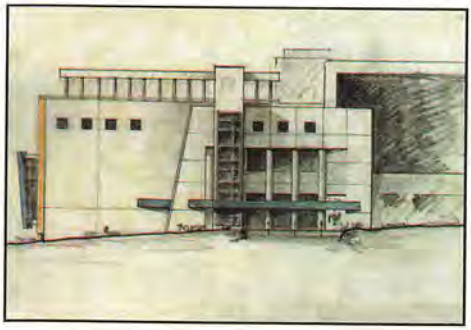
This past season, the Philadelphia 76ers broke their overall attendance record with 655,417, surpassing the previous overall attendance record set in the 1982-83 season (646,788). In two seasons under Sixers President Pat Croce and Comcast-Spectacor, the 76ers have shown a 34-percent growth in attendance, more than any other team in the NBA during that same period. The Sixers also recorded seven sellouts last year, the most sellouts since the 1990-91 season.

From the court to the concourses, the First Union Center has quickly become the place to gather before, during and after the game by offering:

- One of the First Union Center's three interactive exhibits, the 76ers Zone, traces the history of the team from its inception in 1963 to the present. Presented by Comcast, the 76ers Zone also includes full-motion touch-screen video kiosks, a video wall with continuous NBA highlights, and life size 3-D images of Wilt Chamberlain, Dr. J and Charles Barkley.
- Go behind the scenes of the First Union Center and take an interactive tour. You'll get all the inside information as you visit team locker rooms, Comcast SportsNet studios, exclusive luxury suites, press boxes where television and radio broadcasts are produced and even visit the arena floor! Tours also make great birthday parties. Groups are welcome. Call the tour office at (215) 389-9543.
- The Red Bell Brewery & Pub and the Red Bell Back Room, located behind Sections 107-108, feature handcrafted Red Bell Beer, brewed right on the concourse, specialty food selections and views into the Comcast SportsNet studios. The space also includes a Holt's Cigar Store which sells fine cigars and cigar related gifts. Smoking is permitted in the Red Bell Back Room.
- Holt's Cigar Club, located on the Club Level, is a members only club designed for the true cigar aficionado. Ten televisions, including three large-screen TV's, allow members to catch every minute of the action, while relaxing in deep, plush leather chairs. In addition to an array of fine cigars, members can enjoy a private bar with a wide selection of top-shelf cognacs and liquors. For membership information, please call (215) 389-9545.
- Victors Club Restaurant, also located on the Club Level, is a fine dining club for members, blending elegant dining with incomparable entertainment. Victors Club features distinctive selections from one of Philadelphia's finest chefs in a setting that captures all the action before, during and after games and selected events. For membership information, please call (215) 389-9545.
- Celebrating a special event? Looking for an alternative meeting place? Have your celebration or meeting at the First Union Center. Call (215) 389-9545 for more information.

For additional information about the First Union Center, please call (215) 336-3600.

76ers New Practice Facility

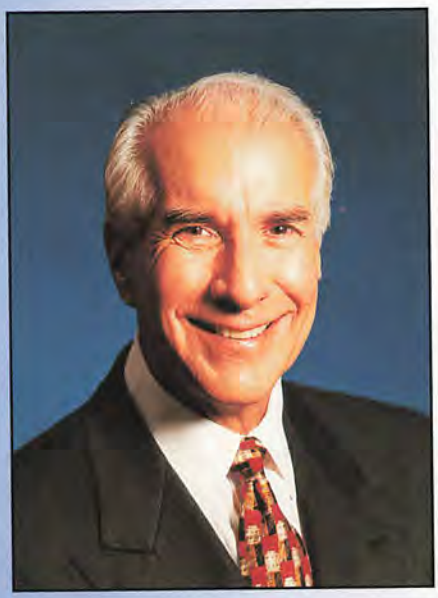


On May 19, 1998, the Philadelphia 76ers and the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine (PCOM) broke ground on a state-of-the-art practice facility in the city of Philadelphia.

The practice site, set to open in the summer of 1999, will feature a weight room with custom sized equipment, an audio-visual room, as well as a full size basketball court with two main baskets and four side baskets to be shared by the college and 76ers. The facility will also house private coaches' offices, a training room and locker room exclusively for the Sixers.

In addition to the basketball facilities, the building will have racquetball and handball courts, a fitness area with a cardiovascular room, aerobics room and locker rooms with showers for students and faculty of the college.

Ed Snider



Ed Snider has been Philadelphia's leader in sports and entertainment for more than 30 years. In that time, he founded the Philadelphia Flyers, developed two major arenas, created two cable television channels, started the world's largest management company, and engineered one of the largest sports mergers in the country.

In 1966, the National Hockey League expanded for the first time, adding six new teams to the existing teams. Ed believed that hockey would succeed in Philadelphia and fought hard to bring a new franchise to the city. He succeeded, and the Flyers were born in 1966. The Flyers needed a home, so Ed spearheaded the development of the Spectrum in 1967, and by 1971, had assumed control of the arena.

In 1974, Ed created Spectacor, a management company to oversee the Flyers and Spectrum. Under Ed's direction, Spectacor founded new businesses over the years, including PRISM, a regional premium cable television channel which broadcasted home games of the Flyers, 76ers and Phillies; Spectacor Management Group, the world's largest manager of public assembly facilities; Spectacor Films, which produces broadcast and cable television movies; and Ticketmaster of Delaware Valley, one of the most successful licensees of Ticketmaster. Spectacor also acquired several businesses, including HTN Associates, the country's largest provider of satellite transmission services for sports broadcasting, and WIP radio, which Spectacor converted into the country's first truly all-sports radio station. Most of these entities were sold at a time when each was the industry leader in its field.

Spectacor's most ambitious undertaking began in 1988, when Ed decided that the Flyers needed a new home to remain competitive in the NHL. It took eight years from conception to completion, but today the First Union Center stands as a tribute to Ed's perseverance and foresight. The $210 million facility now defines state-of-the-art for arenas.

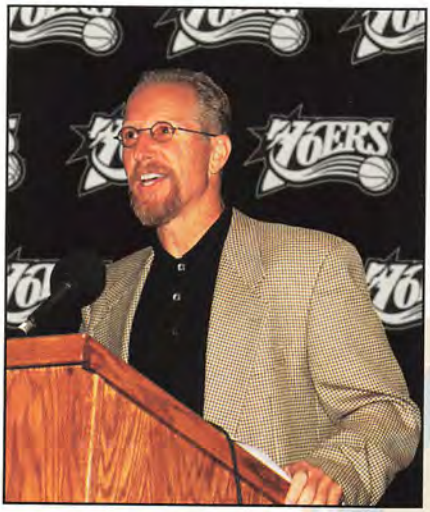
In March 1996, Ed entered into a merger agreement with Comcast Corporation. Under the agreement, Ed contributed the Flyers, their new AHL affiliate, the Phantoms, the First Union Center and the First Union Spectrum to the new venture. Comcast contributed the Philadelphia 76ers. The new venture then entered into a partnership with the Phillies to create Comcast SportsNet, a regional sports television network.

Ed's successes have been recognized by his peers. He was elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1988 and serves on the NHL's Executive Committee. He is a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award for outstanding service to hockey in the United States and has been elected to the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame and the Flyers Hall of Fame.

In 1985, Ed received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree from Hahnemann University. He is also a benefactor and Advisory Board Member of the Sol C. Snider Entrepreneurial Center of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. Other Board memberships include the Board of Overseers of the Wharton School, the Institute for Cancer and Blood Diseases at Allegheny University Hospital, the Institute for Objectivist Studies and the Simon Weisenthal Center.

Ed and his wife, Martha, reside in suburban Philadelphia with their daughter, Sarena, and son, Samuel. His other children include sons Craig and Jay and daughters Lindy and Tina. He has 10 grandchildren.

Pat Croce



When the Philadelphia 76ers named Pat Croce team president on March 19, 1996, they were looking for a fresh start, a new direction. What they found was a proven winner. Through a great deal of hard work and an infectious attitude, Croce has restored the pride and brought excitement back to the Sixers. His fierce drive and determination are felt throughout the organization. No longer is success hoped for, it's expected. Croce, a part owner of the team, has a history of setting high goals and then accomplishing them. Since his arrival, he has raised the standard of expectations for the franchise, resulting in a remarkable 34 percent attendance increase.

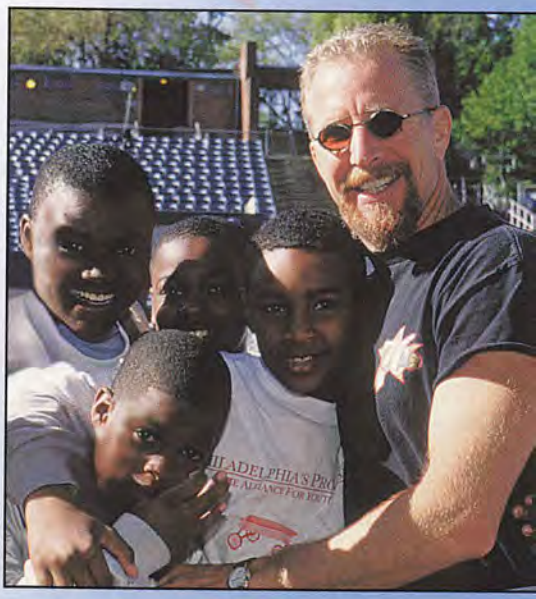
Croce made his initial connection in the world of professional sports in 1980 as the conditioning coach for Bobby Clarke and the Philadelphia Flyers hockey team. Several years later, he opened the first of his Sports Physical Therapists, Inc. centers in a small office building in Broomall, Pa. An early client was one of the most recognizable basketball players in the world...Julius Erving. But the "Doctor" was not Croce's first high-profile client. Baseball Hall of Famer Mike Schmidt was one of Croce's earliest and most ardent followers. In fact, after Schmidt won the National League Most Valuable Player Award in 1986, Croce was one of those whom he thanked.

Today, Croce works closely with his current "stars" Head Coach and Vice President of Basketball Operations Larry Brown, and General Manager Billy King. In May 1997, Croce hired Larry Brown as the 17th coach in Philadelphia franchise history. Shortly after, King was added to the staff. Together they have helped reshape the franchise through the acquisition of key free agents and quality draft picks.

The 1977 cum laude graduate from the University of Pittsburgh is extremely active in the community. His list of community involvement is as impressive as his athletic and business accomplishments.

Croce is the driving force in the Sixers Slam Dunk Diabetes Family Festival, which benefits the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, and has participated in the JDF Walk to Cure Diabetes in each of its 12 years. He also serves as the honorary chairman of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and is a member of the board of directors of the Police Athletic League.

Croce is an international karate champion, motivational speaker and author. Above all, Pat Croce is a dedicated family man. He and his wife of 21 years, Diane, reside in suburban Philadelphia with their two children, Kelly and Michael.



Larry Brown

Larry Brown, the 12th winningest coach in NBA history and coach of the 1988 college national champions was hired May 5, 1997, as the head coach in Philadelphia franchise history. Brown, who has posted a winning record in 23 of his 26 seasons as a professional head coach or collegiate head coach, has compiled a 1,061-699 (.603) career record. In his 15 seasons in the NBA, he has a 655-531 (.552) record. In his first year as head coach, he guided the Sixers to a nine-win improvement, tying the seventh best single-season improvement in team history, and led the franchise to its most victories in six years.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Brown also serves as the 76ers vice president of basketball operations. He, along with General Manager Billy King and the basketball operations staff, have added key free agents such as Theo Ratliff, Matt Geiger and Eric Snow to the roster, while acquiring young talent for the future such as Tim Thomas and Larry Hughes through the draft.

Hustle and defense are trademarks of a Larry Brown-coached team. Traditionally, his teams are unselfish and come to compete every night. He has finished first in his division five times (1976-77 & '77-78 with Denver; 1989-90 & '90-91 with San Antonio; and 1994-95 with Indiana).

Prior to joining the Sixers, the 58-year-old Brown spent four seasons as head coach of the Indiana Pacers, compiling a record of 190-138 (.579). The Pacers' all-time winningest coach took the team to the playoffs three times, including the Eastern Conference Finals twice.

Prior to joining Indiana, Brown spent time as the head coach of the Los Angeles Clippers and San Antonio Spurs. He took the Spurs to the postseason twice (1990 and 1991) and Clippers twice (1992 and 1993), before moving to Indiana in 1993.

Brown spent four seasons in the ABA, earning Coach of the Year honors three times. After seven seasons with Carolina and Denver, Brown returned to the college ranks in 1979 as head coach at UCLA. The Bruins went to the national championship game in Brown's first year as coach and returned to the tournament the following year, before losing in the second round. After a two-year stint as coach of the New Jersey Nets (1981-83), Brown would spend the next five years as head coach at the University of Kansas, where he won the national championship in 1988.

As a coach, Brown draws on his playing days where he was a member of the 1964 gold-medal U.S. Olympic basketball team. The three-time ABA All-Star holds the ABA record with 23 assists in a game and was the Most Valuable Player of the ABA All-Star Game in 1968.

Brown and his wife, Shelly, reside in suburban Philadelphia with their daughter, Madison, and son, L.J. The avid golfer also has three daughters, Kristen, Alli and Melissa.

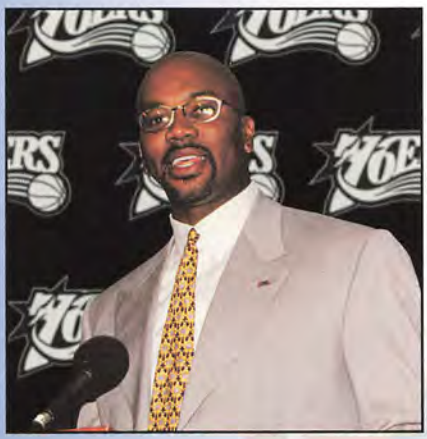
Billy King



Billy King joined the 76ers on June 2, 1997, as the vice president of basketball administration, a role in which he served as the point person for basketball operations. Less than a year later, 76ers President Pat Croce promoted King to General Manager.

The 32-year-old King is the youngest general manager in the NBA and considered one of the league's brightest and best. Through his efforts, he has reshaped the franchise by acquiring a mix of veterans and free agents including Theo Ratliff, Aaron McKie, Matt Geiger and Eric Snow, while creating valuable salary-cap space for the future.

King is the point man for all trades, player procurement, negotiations of player contracts, as well as managing the franchise's annual basketball operations budget. In King's first year with the team, the Sixers enjoyed a nine-game improvement which was sixth best in the NBA and tied for seventh in franchise history.

It's been on draft day that King has been at his best. His expertise and shrewd moves have been the foundation for the 76ers bright future. In just his first month with the team, King and the basketball operations staff negotiated a nine-player trade with the New Jersey Nets, the largest trade in franchise history, that brought Tim Thomas and Anthony Parker to the Sixers while clearing salary cap space for future moves. This past summer, the Sixers selected Larry Hughes from St. Louis University, who will team with Allen Iverson to form one of the most talented and exciting backcourts in the NBA. In addition, King negotiated a deal with the Utah Jazz on draft day this year, acquiring the rights to Nazr Mohammed, a member of last year's Kentucky Wildcats National Championship team.

Prior to joining the 76ers, King was an assistant coach for the Indiana Pacers under Larry Brown for four seasons.

Before he joined the professional ranks, he was an assistant at Illinois State University and spent one year as a color analyst for ESPN's basketball coverage of the Ohio Valley Conference.

King was an outstanding defensive player on Duke's highly ranked teams in the late 1980s, and he received the Henry Iba Corinthian National Defensive Player of the Year award at the end of his senior season. While King was at Duke, the Blue Devils were 112-27, an average of 28 wins per season. During his collegiate career, the Blue Devils went to the Final Four twice, won the Atlantic Coast Conference regular-season championship and two ACC Tournament titles.

King currently serves on the USA Basketball's Senior National Team Committee, the USA Basketball's Executive Committee and the USOC Athlete's Advisory Counsel.

A Political Science major at Duke, King follows national and local politics closely. He's also a movie buff and previously hosted his own movie review show for WBNQ-Radio in Bloomington, Ill., titled "Kings Clips."

John Kuester
Assistant Coach

John Kuester enters his second season as an assistant coach with the 76ers. Prior to joining the Sixers last season, Kuester spent seven seasons with the Celtics, the final two years as an assistant coach and the previous five as Boston's video coordinator/scout.

A University of North Carolina graduate, Kuester played under Dean Smith from 1973-77 as the Tar Heels went to four NCAA Tournaments, won a pair of Atlantic Coast Conference championships, and went to the NCAA Finals in 1977. In his senior year, Kuester was voted the team's best defensive player for the second straight season and the Most Valuable Player of the ACC Tournament and the NCAA East Regionals.

Kuester joined the NBA ranks as a third-round draft choice of the Kansas City Kings (53rd overall) in 1977. He played three seasons in the NBA, one each with Kansas City, Denver and Indiana.

He began his coaching career with stints as an assistant at the University of Richmond (1980-81) and at Boston University (1981-83). In 1983, he became the youngest Division I head coach, succeeding Rick Pitino at Boston University. Two seasons later, Kuester began a five-year stint as head coach of George Washington University before joining the Celtics.

Maurice Cheeks
Assistant Coach

A favorite in Philadelphia, Maurice Cheeks will return to the 76ers for his fifth season as an assistant coach and second under current Head Coach Larry Brown.

Cheeks initiated his coaching career by serving one year as an assistant with the CBA champion Quad City Thunder.

After 15 years as a player in the NBA, Cheeks retired in 1993 as the league's all-time steals leader and was fifth on the career assists list. Mo led the 76ers in assists in all 11 seasons he played in Philadelphia and also topped the team in steals in each of his first 10 years.

He was named to the NBA's All-Defensive first team four times and was a second-teamer once. A model point guard, Cheeks played in four All-Star Games and shares single-game records for most steals in Finals (six) and playoffs (eight). He played a significant role in helping the 1982-83 76ers become world champions as he averaged 16.3 points and seven assists during the 1983 NBA playoffs.

The 1978 West Texas State graduate was a four-year starter and three-time team MVP in college. Cheeks, who finished his career third on the West Texas State all-time scoring list, averaged 16.8 points per game and shot an amazing 56.8 percent from the field as a senior. At the conclusion of his collegiate career, he was selected in the second round of the NBA Draft with the 36th overall selection by the Sixers.

Cheeks can look up at the rafters in the First Union Center and see his number 10, which was retired by the 76ers on Feb. 6, 1995. Mo is one of six players to have his number retired by the Sixers.

He is single and resides in Philadelphia.

Randy Ayers
Assistant Coach

Randy Ayers joined the Sixers last season as the physical conditioning coach after spending the previous eight years as head basketball coach at Ohio State University. He was promoted to his current position as assistant coach on July 22, 1998.

Ayers compiled a 124-108 record at Ohio State and led the Buckeyes to four postseason appearances. He was named National Coach of the Year in 1991 by both the Associated Press and the Black Coaches Association after leading OSU to a 27-4 record. Ayers guided his 1991 squad to a school-record 27 victories and its first of two consecutive Big Ten championships. He received Big Ten Coach of the Year honors in both 1991 and 1992 after leading the Buckeyes to a school-record 15 Big Ten victories in each season.

Ayers came to Ohio State from the U.S. Military Academy, where he coached for two years as a full-time assistant in charge of recruiting. Prior to West Point, he spent two years as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Miami University in Oxford, Ohio.

Randy was the Ohio Player of the Year as a senior at Springfield North High School. He went on to an impressive collegiate career at Miami (Ohio), starting all four years and earning all-conference honors his last two seasons. Ayers graduated in 1978 and was selected in the third round of that year's NBA draft by the Chicago Bulls. Released on the final cut, he played a year of pro ball in Reno, Nev.

Randy and his wife, Carol, have two sons, Ryan (11) and Cameron (6).

Brian Lange
Physical Conditioning Coach

Brian Lange begins his first season as the physical conditioning coach of the 76ers after spending the previous four years as the head track and field coach at Cortland State University in New York.

A native of Burnt Hills, N.Y., Lange led Cortland's men's program to NCAA Division III Top 20 finishes and State University of New York Athletic Conference (SUNYAC) titles both indoor and outdoors, earning SUNYAC and New York Region Coach of the Year honors. In 1996, Lange served as Cortland's interim head cross country coach and was named the New York Region Coach of the Year after leading the team to an eighth-place national finish along with regional and SUNYAC Championships.

An outstanding athlete at the University of Nebraska-Kearney, Lange earned NAIA All-America high jump honors in 1979. He left school to work from 1981 to 1984 before returning to earn All-America awards in the high jump in 1984 and decathlon in 1986. After graduating in 1984, Lange assumed the position as assistant track & field coach at the university while he pursued a masters degree in Physical Education.

Born in Camden, NJ, Lange and his wife Valerie reside in Suburban Philadelphia with their daughter Rachel (2) and two sons, Jonathan (10) and David (8).

Tony DiLeo
Director, Scouting

Tony DiLeo is entering his ninth season with the 76ers, his fifth as the team's director of scouting. He also has been an assistant coach and player personnel director with the club. His current duties include all aspects of scouting, including future opponents, collegiate and CBA players, as well as following the progress of prospects playing in Europe.

DiLeo has extensive experience in international basketball, both as a player and as a coach. He was selected as the West German Basketball Federation national coach of the year from 1981-85, and was the country's Coach of the Year in 1987.

In 1984, DiLeo wrote and published the European Basketball Handbook, a guide to accommodate American players overseas. He also has written a manual on rule differences among international basketball, the NBA and the NCAA.

A star at Cinnaminson (N.J.) High School, DiLeo went on to play at Tennessee Tech and La Salle University. As a senior at La Salle, he was a first-team Academic All-American, and graduated first in his class from the School of Business.

He and his wife, Anna, and sons, T.J. (8) and Max (5), live in Cinnaminson, N.J.

Kevin O'Connor
Director, Player Personnel

Kevin O'Connor enters his second season as the director of player personnel after serving as a regional scout for the Trail Blazers, Clippers, Nets, and the Jazz.

O'Connor assists General Manager Billy King with player procurement through his evaluation of amateur and professional talent, while supervising the team's scouting department. His knowledge of talent has been instrumental on draft day as well as in the acquisition of free agents.

O'Connor has been associated with winning teams on both the NBA and collegiate levels. In 1997 he was a member of the Jazz organization as it earned its first trip to the NBA Finals. He was also an assistant at UCLA 1980 when Larry Brown led the Bruins to the NCAA championship game and was an assistant at Virginia Military Institute when it made an improbable run to the Final Eight of the 1976 NCAA Tournament. In 1973, O'Connor helped coach Virginia Tech to a 22-5 record and the NIT championship.

He first worked with Larry Brown in 1979 as an assistant coach at UCLA. He spent two seasons on Brown's staff and remained at UCLA until 1984. In addition to stints at UCLA, VMI and Virginia Tech, O'Connor also served as an assistant coach at the University of Colorado and Army.

O'Connor spent his collegiate days at Belmont Abbey College in North Carolina, graduating with degrees in economics and business in 1969. In his senior year, he served as captain of the basketball team and led his squad to a 21-5 record.

O'Connor and his wife, Martha, have a daughter, Katie, who plays basketball at Virginia Tech.

Lenny Currier embarks on his second season as the head athletic trainer for the 76ers after spending the previous eight seasons in the same role for the Orlando Magic. This past summer, Currier, who was the head trainer for the Eastern Conference in the 1992 NBA All-Star Game, added to his impressive resume by serving as the assistant trainer for USA Basketball's team that captured the bronze medal at the World Championships in Greece.

The Newburyport, Mass., native joined the Magic after four seasons as the athletic trainer for the Albuquerque Dukes of the Pacific Coast League, the Triple-A team of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Additionally, he spent two winters in the Dominican Republic Winter League as the head athletic trainer for the Escogido Leones.

TELEVISION COVERAGE

Sixers fans will once again be able to follow their team from start to finish of the 1998-99 season with the Emmy award winning 76ers television broadcasts. With the winning combination of Comcast-SportsNet, WPSG (UPN57), and TNT, fans will be able to enjoy each and every 76ers game on television.

A total of 41 games are slated for broadcast on Comcast-SportsNet — Philadelphia's first and only 24-hour basic cable regional sports network. This season, along with the 76ers, Comcast-SportsNet will broadcast over 300 live professional and amateur sports events including Flyers, Phillies and Phantoms games. Comcast-SportsNet combines action packed play-by-play coverage along with insightful sports news and talk programming to form the best regional sports network in the country.

In addition to the Comcast-SportsNet schedule the 76ers will once again return to WPSG, UPN57 for a nine game schedule. The 76ers returned to broadcast television last season following a five year hiatus and formed an outstanding partnership with flagship station of the Paramount Stations Group.

Handling the play-by-play and color duties again this season, for the fifth year, are Marc Zumoff and Steve Mix. Zumoff, a Philadelphia-area native, received an Emmy for the Mid-Atlantic Region best sports play-by-play broadcaster. Zumoff has been nominated 6 times and captured 5 of the coveted statuettes. Mix, a former 76ers Forward and NBA All-Star, joins Zumoff and provides insight to the game that only a former player can provide, while adding a little off -beat color commentary.

ADDITIONAL 76ERS PROGRAMMING

In addition to game play by play coverage, the 76ers produce a series of television programs designed to keep 76ers fans informed and entertained.

"The Sixers Jam"

Hosted by Ukee Washington, "The Jam" is a fast paced magazine-type program that takes you off the court and behind the scenes to learn more about your favorite 76ers players. Ukee gets an "assist" on the show with reporting duties from Y100's Matt Cord, WNBA sensation Dawn Staley and the radio voice of the 76ers Tom McGinnis. "The Jam" airs each Saturday throughout the season.

Philly's Own "Where Are They Now"

"Where Are They Know", airs each month on Comcast-SportsNet. Take a stroll down memory lane as legendary Philadelphia TV personality Al Meltzer visits with former Philadelphia sports greats and catches up with what they're doing today, and where they've been since leaving the Philadelphia sports scene. Sixers, Flyers, Phillies, Eagles — if they were involved in Philadelphia sports, look for them on" Where Are They Now".

Sixers Specials

The 76ers still reachout to fans during the off-season with other special programming, which includes the unveiling of the Sixers Dance Team with our 30 minute special, a one-hour program covering our very own 76ers 3-on-3 Classic and our award winning preseason special, covering training camp, all on Comcast-SportsNet.

RADIO COVERAGE

If you can't catch a Sixers game on Television....we got you covered! Every Sixers regular season game can be heard on the 76ers Radio network. WIP (610 AM), the all-sports station in Philadelphia, will once again serve as the flagship station. Tom McGinnis returns for his fourth season as the Sixers radio voice. FIRST UNION CENTER

FIRST UNION SPECTRUM

YOURSIXERS.OURCOMMUNITY.

The ultimate measure of an organization's success is not just the number in the "Win" column at the season's end, but what the team stands for year after year in the community. As president of the 76ers, I am proud to say that we have a tradition of placing as much importance on the contributions we make in the community as we do on our performance on the court. And while the number of wins may change from year to year, the fervent commitment of time and creative energy given to the community by everyone in the Sixers organization never ceases. We like to think that Philadelphia just might be a better place to live because of programs like the ones you can read about here.

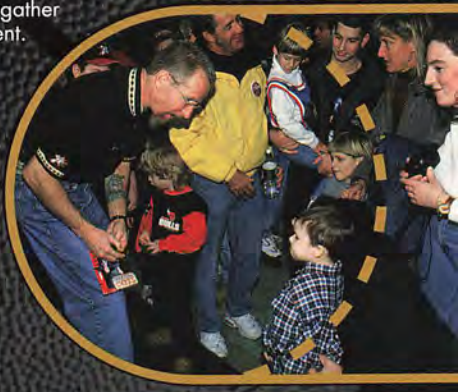
SSDD
SIXERS SLAM DUNK DIABETES

The charitable highlight of the 76ers season is the annual family fun festival, Sixers Slam Dunk Diabetes (SSDD). The entire 76ers family, including players, coaches and front office personnel, gather on the hardwood for an afternoon of fun and excitement.

Activities include autograph and photo booths, and games of chance and skill. The best part is that proceeds from the event benefit the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation (JDF).

Intended primarily to raise funds to aid in the search for a cure, a secondary goal is to raise awareness of the disease. In just the first two years, attendance grew by more than 300% and $150,000 has been donated to this very worthy cause.



READ FOR RONALD
To Benefit
The Philadelphia Ronald McDonald House

The 76ers Read for Ronald program encourages students to read while also offering an assist to sick children and their families by supporting The Philadelphia Ronald McDonald House (The House), which provides shelter and emotional support for families of critically ill children being treated at area hospitals. Elementary and middle school students collect pledges for each minute read during a one-month time period each year. In three years, youth representing more than 20 Delaware Valley schools have raised $196,000 for The House. Participating students receive incentives including 76ers bookmarks and certificates. Students are also recognized at 76ers games for their efforts. Former NBA All-Star World B. Free joins current players and visits the top fund-raising schools. In addition, Free, 76ers President Pat Croce, Ronald McDonald and 76ers mascot Hip-Hop attend a special awards ceremony at The House for the top student fund-raisers.

Philadelphia 76ers
Summer
HOOPS TOUR

During the summer months, the 76ers take to the streets and playgrounds with the 76ers Summer Hoops Tour, a series of free basketball clinics designed to teach and reinforce the fundamentals of basketball. Former 76ers star World B. Free is the tour leader and current players, coaches, Hip-Hop and front office staff join in to demonstrate basic skills while encouraging participants to have fun during the clinics. During the summer of 1998, more than 5,000 children participated in the program. The tour includes 25 stops from Allentown, PA, to Wildwood, NJ, and all points in between within the City of Philadelphia and throughout the Delaware Valley.

76ERS
Neighborhood Basketball League
Conducted by the Philadelphia Department of Recreation

FIRST UNION

BASKETBALL

The Sixers Neighborhood Basketball League (SNBL) is a youth recreation league presented by First Union and AND 1 and conducted by the Philadelphia Department of Recreation. The SNBL offers boys and girls from the ages of 9 to 18 the opportunity to participate in an organized, supervised league at one of the 37 Department of Recreation facilities. Each season more than 5,000 youth compete in more than 60 leagues from December to April. Each player receives an official SNBL T-shirt and participants are recognized at 76ers games.

In addition, eight SNBL teams have the opportunity to play on the 76ers' home court prior to a game and the 76ers' coaches lead a special clinic for SNBL volunteer coaches.

SIXERS SPOKESMEN

presented by Magee Rehabilitation

The Sixers Spokesmen presented by Magee Rehabilitation will once again take to the courts throughout the Northeast to play a 30-game schedule.

The competitive wheelchair team wears official 76ers game jerseys by Champion. Throughout the season, the Sixers Spokesmen participate in numerous activities to promote wheelchair basketball including playing a regulation league game after a 76ers contest and performing a halftime exhibition. During the summer, team members play in the 76ers 3-on-3 Classic and conduct a youth wheelchair basketball clinic as part of the 76ers Summer Hoops Tour.

During last season's NBA All-Star Weekend in New York, Tony "Stinky" Norris represented the team in the National Wheelchair Basketball Association All-Star Game.

The team returns most of its players from last year's successful season, and will compete in local and regional contests before attempting to qualify for the National Wheelchair Basketball Tournament in March.

76ERS BASKETBALL 101

Presented by Champion

The 76ers team up with Champion to present 76ers Basketball 101, a fast-paced, clinic-style approach to the game of basketball that is available for schools, clubs and special events. One of the 76ers' professors of basketball, such as former 76ers star World B. Free, takes the students through a class in basketball fundamentals. Upon completion of the program, "graduates" are awarded diplomas.

PLAYGROUND REBOUND

76ERS Backboard Revitalization Project

The 76ers backboard revitalization project, Playground Rebound, aims to refurbish area playgrounds, recreation centers and athletic facilities by providing new basketball backboards. Any community-based group can complete an application detailing the site location, current backboard condition and youth program activities at the site. Applications are submitted on an ongoing basis with rolling acceptances.

Another example of the 76ers' community outreach is support of the NBA 2ball competition. Each year the 76ers partner with local CYO and PAL organizations to conduct local NBA 2ball competitions. A two-person basketball skills contest, NBA 2ball tests basketball fundamentals and stresses the importance of teamwork. In just the first two years, more than 4,000 area youngsters ages 9 to 17 participated in this competition. The local competition is sponsored by Champion.

Community Service Scholarship Program

HERR'S

In conjunction with Herr Foods, the 76ers offer team two $5,000 scholarships to high school seniors who demonstrate outstanding community service and academic achievement.

Academic requirements include a scholastic average of at least 75% or an equivalent grade point average or letter grade. Community service guidelines include a minimum of 15 hours per month of community service and ongoing community activities for six months. Service must also be done on a volunteer basis. Winners are recognized during an awards ceremony prior to a 76ers game.

Philadelphia 76ers

Community ASSISTS Program

76ERS PLAYERS AND COACHES PROVIDING AN ASSIST TO THEIR NEIGHBORS

Through the generosity of the team's players and coaches, tickets to every 76ers home game at the First Union Center are available to non-profit organizations. Groups can request up to 20 tickets once a season to enjoy the fun and excitement of 76ers basketball. Groups sit in a special section and are recognized on the First Union Center scoreboard during the game.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Being involved in our community entails reaching out and lending a helping hand throughout the year. 76ers players, coaches, alumni and front office personnel are involved in a myriad of activities and events such as spreading holiday cheer with visits to area hospital pediatric units and providing keynote speakers for school and community functions.

The 76ers also support Project H.O.M.E., Habitat for Humanity, the Police Athletic League (PAL), Catholic Youth Organization (CYO), Boy Scouts of America, The Big Brothers/Big Sisters Association of Philadelphia, Philadelphia Cares, Boys and Girls Clubs of Delaware and the Boys and Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Philadelphia. Including ticket donations and personal appearances, the 76ers make more than 5,000 community contributions each year.

NBA Programs

The NBA, its teams and players demonstrate their concern for important social issues by supporting causes that help people achieve an improved quality of life. Placing a special emphasis on serving the needs and recognizing the accomplishments of young people, the NBA's community outreach initiative include:

The NBA TeamUp Program

NBA TeamUp is a league-wide youth initiative that encourages volunteerism among students in middle and high schools across the United States and Canada. Now in its third year, the program has engaged more than 79,000 young people in community service projects; and has recognized and rewarded more than 40,000 outstanding youth volunteers at events hosted by the NBA and its 29 teams. The league and its players also draw awareness to the importance of volunteerism through a public service campaign and television specials that reach millions of viewers.

The NBA and Reading Is Fundamental

Since 1995, the NBA has partnered with RIF, the leading nonprofit youth literacy organization in the United States, to promote the fun and fundamentals of reading. Successful programs resulting from this partnership include the league-wide "NBA Reading Month," which encourages reading through incentive programs, read alouds and book distributions; and a series of public service announcements featuring NBA players.

The NBA/WNBA Sportsmanship Initiative

Implemented in conjunction with The National Federation of State High Schools Association and the Canadian School Sports Federation, this program fosters on-court sportsmanship in amateur and professional basketball competition. The initiative includes the NBA and WNBA Sportsmanship Awards; a certificate program that rewards high school athletes and coaches who demonstrate sportsmanship; and a public service campaign featuring NBA and WNBA players.

The NBA also supports the efforts of the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse, the Martin Luther King Jr. Holiday, Black History Month and the Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund.

TICKET PRICES IN THE EARLY YEARS

When player salaries were not as lofty as today and teams did not have arenas with the large seating capacities now prevalent in the NBA, ticket prices for games were accordingly much cheaper than today, just like prices for clothing, food, etc. The first year of the 76ers in 1963-64, ticket prices for the games at Convention Hall were $1.50, $2, $2.75 and $3.50. They stayed the same the next season. In 1965-66, the top price soared to $4 with $3.25, $2.50 and $1.50 the other prices. These were also the prices when the 76ers won the NBA Title in 1966-67. In 1967-68, the first year in the Spectrum, the prices were $6, $5, $4, $3, and $2. They stayed that way through the 1974-75 season. Finally in 1975-76, the first year of George McGinnis, the prices went up a dollar to a $7 tops, and then began the steady rise to today's figures.

71 DRAFTED PLAYERS MAKE ROSTER

Since the 76ers first draft in 1964 through the 1997 draft, 71 players picked played at least one game for the team! The best year was 1973 when 7 players (Doug Collins, Mike Bantom, Allan Bristow, George McGinnis, Caldwell Jones, Harvey Catchings and Rod Freeman) played for the 76ers at some point in their careers. The worst year was 1991 when the team's lone pick, second rounder Alvaro Teheran, didn't make it. In 1988, no draftees made it, but the Sixers had a pre-draft deal with the LA Clippers to pick Charles Smith and trade him the same day for Hersey Hawkins who was the sixth pick in the draft. In 1997, only Kebu Stewart made it. Mark Milic never played before being traded. Anthony Parker and Tim Thomas were drafted by New Jersey and traded to 76ers for draftee Keith Van Horn.

A FEW BASIC NBA RULES

When a player is placed on the injured list, he must sit out a minimum of 5 games before he may be restored to the active list. A team can't have more than 3 players on the injured list at any one time without special permission from the League . On or after a designated early January date, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract. This process may be used only to replace a player assigned to the injured list. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day contracts with the same team.

WILT'S RETURN TO PHILADELPHIA

Wilt Chamberlain returned to Philadelphia after his acquisition from San Francisco on January 15, 1965 to play against San Francisco on January 21, 1965 before a packed house of 6,140 at the Arena. The 76ers won 111-102.

A WILT RECORD THAT STILL STANDS

Everyone is familiar with the league record 100 points that Wilt Chamberlain scored in 1962 versus the Knicks, but it is not as widely known that he also holds the league record for assists (21) by a center. He achieved this figure Feb. 2, 1968 vs. Detroit. Maurice Cheeks equalled that figure to tie Wilt for the club mark on Oct. 30, 1982 vs. the Nets, but of course Cheeks is a guard.

LARRY BROWN DISTINCTION

Current 76ers coach Larry Brown has a unique distinction. He's the only man ever to coach 2 NBA teams in the same season. That was the 1991-92 season when he started out as the mentor at San Antonio and then switched to the Los Angeles Clippers.

LONGEST AND SHORTEST COACHING REGIMES

Billy Cunningham had by far the longevity record among 76ers coaches. He skippered the team from 1977-78 to 1984-85 when he retired and Matt Guokas supplanted him. The shortest coaching stint was by Kevin Loughery who coached 31 games (5-26) in the second half of the 1972-73 season before jumping to the New York Nets. Kevin had replaced Roy Rubin at the All-Star break when Rubin's mark was 4-47. The third shortest reign was Doug Moe with 56 (19-37) games in 1992-93 before being axed in favor of Fred Carter.

The 76ers players have worn all numbers from 0 to 55 except for 11 numbers. Shawn Bradley is the only player to wear a higher number (No. 76). The never used numbers are 19, 27, 29, 37, 38, 39, 46, 48, 49 and 51.

7 SIXERS HAD TRIPLE DOUBLES

In the period between 1979-1997 when NBA Triple Doubles were recorded, 7 76ers turned the trick. Julius Erving was the first to do it on November 20, 1979 at San Antonio with 10 rebounds, 10 assists and 26 points. Others to do it were Andrew Toney, 1984-85; Charles Barkley 1985-86, 1986-87 (5 times), 1988-89 (twice) and 1989-90; Maurice Cheeks 1987-88; Hersey Hawkins 1992-93; Clarence Weatherspoon 1993-94 and Dana Barros the last to do it on Apr. 8, 1995 vs Orlando. Thus, the 76ers have accomplished the feat 15 times since the stat was kept.

A HISTORICAL LOOK AT THE PHILADELPHIA 76ERS

The Philadelphia 76ers franchise actually began in 1949, when six teams from the midwest-based National Basketball League joined the Basketball Association of America to form the 17 team National Basketball Association. One of those teams was the Syracuse Nationals, which eventually became the Philadelphia 76ers. The Nats went 51-13 in their first NBA season under Al Cervi, and won the Eastern Division crown. The team was very successful in Syracuse, reaching the NBA final in both 1950 and 1954 both times losing to the Minneapolis Lakers. They finally broke through in 1955, taking their first, and only, NBA title by defeating the Fort Wayne Pistons 92-91 on April 10, 1955, taking the series 4-3. The team posted winning records in 11 of its 14 seasons in Syracuse.

The Nats were purchased by Philadelphian Irv Kosloff and Ike Richman in the spring of 1963, and the NBA approved the franchise shift (May 22) and name change (Aug. 6) from the Nationals to the 76ers, returning professional basketball to Philly. (The Philadelphia Warriors had left for San Francisco following the 1961-62 season.) Nats star Dolph Schayes was named the Sixers first coach, and the team went 34-46 in its first season, finishing in third place. Guard Hal Greer was the star of that first Sixers team, averaging 23.3 ppg and becoming the first Sixers All-Star.

The first turning point for the franchise occurred on January 15, 1965, when the club acquired star center Wilt Chamberlain from the San Francisco Warriors for three players and cash. Chamberlain continued his NBA dominance, becoming the first Sixer to lead the NBA in scoring and rebounding while leading the team to its first Eastern Division title with a 55-25 record in '65-66.

Former Nets star and coach Alex Hannum succeeded Dolph Schayes as head coach prior to the '66-67 season, and the team picked up right where it left off, winning the Eastern Division title with a 68-13 record. The team then took the NBA title by defeating the San Francisco Warriors 4-2, clinching the series with a 125-122 win in game six on April 24 at the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

The '67-68 season saw the Sixers move from their old home, the Philadelphia Civic Center, to the new Spectrum and Jack Ramsay became the team's first GM. They opened the building with a 103-87 win over the Los Angeles Lakers on October 18, 1967. Philly finished that season with a 62-20 record, taking their third straight Eastern Division title, but lost to the Boston Celtics 4-3 in the Eastern Conference Finals. Chamberlain etched his name yet again in the NBA recordbook in '67-68 by recording the NBA's only triple-double-double with 25 rebounds, 21 assists and 22 points in a 131-121 win over Detroit on February 2, 1968. Following the season, Ramsay succeeded Alex Hannum as Sixers head coach, and became the first person in team history to hold the dual role of head coach and general manager. The team just missed its fourth straight division title in '67-68, finishing second with a 55-27 mark, and was dethroned by the Boston Celtics in the opening round of the playoffs. Don DeJardin succeeded Ramsay as GM in the 1970-74 period.

Age and injuries then took their toll on the franchise. The '71-72 team became the first Sixers team to finish below .500 (30-52), and the 1972-73 squad became one of the more infamous teams in league annals, posting the worst mark in NBA history at 9-73 with Roy Rubin and Kevin Loughery splitting the coaching chores. Gene Shue's appointment as head coach on June 15, 1973 and the selection of Doug Collins with the first pick of the '73 NBA Draft began the Sixers return as an NBA power. Pat Williams' reign as GM ran from 1974 to 1986. They also added a key frontcourt player with the signing of free agent George McGinnis on July 10, 1975. Collins and McGinnis formed the foundation for the Sixers mid-'70's rise, as Collins averaged 17.9 ppg and garnered four All-Star game selections in his injury-shortened eight season career, while McGinnis averaged 21.6 ppg and a pair of All-Star nods in his three Sixers campaigns.

The team steadily improved, highlighted by a 50-32 Atlantic Division title in '76-77 and a playoff run that saw them reach the '77 NBA Finals, where they were turned back by former coach Jack Ramsay and the Portland Trail Blazers in six games.

Philly then made its most storied move. On October 21, 1976, the Sixers purchased Julius Erving's contract from the New York Nets and on November 3, 1977, Billy Cunningham replaced Gene Shue as Sixers head coach. The team took their second straight Atlantic Division crown with a 55-27 record, but lost to the Washington Bullets in the Eastern Conference Finals.

However, the stage was now set, and their run continued as one of the elite teams in the NBA over the better part of the next decade, winning no less than 52 games in seven straight seasons between 1979-80 and 1985-86, including three appearances in the NBA Finals. Their most memorable season during that era was 1982-83. The team, led by Erving, Moses Malone and All-Star guard Maurice Cheeks, posted a 65-17 regular season record and went on a 12-1 rampage through the NBA playoffs. They capped the championship off with a 4-0 sweep of the Los Angeles Lakers in the Finals. Current Sixers owner Harold Katz purchased the team from Fitz Dixon in July of 1981, and helped guide them to the title in his second ownership season.

Billy Cunningham continued at the helm until June 14, 1985, when he was replaced by Matt Guokas. The team, still led by Malone and Erving and a budding star named Charles Barkley, continued its run as one of the NBA's elite, finishing with a 54-28 mark in '85-86. The GMs were John Nash, 1986-90, Shue 1990-92, and Jim Lynam 1992-94. More recent successes have included the 1989-90 Atlantic Division title (under Lynam) and the club's 2,000th franchise victory on December 13, 1994, over the Miami Heat. John Lucas was hired as head coach and general manager on June 14, 1994. The sale of the club from Katz to Comcast Corp. and Pat Croce was approved by the NBA on April 24, 1996. Brad Greenberg was named general manager on May 8, 1996. Johnny Davis replaced Lukas as coach June 10, 1996. Larry Brown was named coach May 5, 1997. Billy King promoted to General Manager May 19, 1998

PHILADELPHIA IS 5TH LARGEST CITY

According to the 1990 census, Philadelphia is the fifth largest city in the NBA in two categories--city population 1,585,573 and in metropolitan area 5,899,345.

CLUB NICKNAME

The late Walter Stahlberg, of West Collingswood, New Jersey, won a contest to name the club in 1963. The choice of the club's nickname was announced on August 6, 1963. There were almost 500 different suggestions among the entries and Stahlberg was one of several who picked the 76ers. However, his accompanying 25-word explanation was deemed the best by the judges, and he and his wife received an all-expense trip to the West Coast to see the 76ers play San Francisco.

76ERS BANNER YEAR ON THE ROAD

The 76ers of 1976-77 (632,994) were the biggest road attraction in NBA history until 1984-85 (in 1995-96,1996-97,and 1997-98 Chicago sold out every road game). They drew 33 sellouts in 41 outings for a 15,439 average. In Buffalo they drew the largest opening crowd in the Braves' history two days after Julius Erving was signed. They drew the largest crowd of the year in Kansas City and the two largest in New Orleans including a then record-breaking 27,383. They drew sellouts in both their appearances in Atlanta, Washington, Houston, San Antonio, Cleveland, Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Denver, Los Angeles, Golden State, Portland, Seattle, New York and Boston and in their lone game in Phoenix. They drew sellouts in one of their two games in both New Orleans and Indiana. Only in Buffalo, Kansas City and the Nets did they fail to have any sellouts. Their smallest road crowd was 8,792 at Buffalo in a rescheduled snowed-out game. Their only other crowd under 10,938 was a 9,633 total in their first game with the Nets. By divisions they sold out all 9 games in the Pacific Division; 11 out of 12 in the Central Division, 9 out of 12 in the Midwest Division and only 4 out of 8 in the Atlantic Division. They also had sellouts in all 9 road playoff games to wind up an unparalleled record in the league's history at that time.

NBA'S ONLY TRIPLE DOUBLE DOUBLE BY WILT

Wilt had 25 rebounds, 21 assists and 22 points in this game. Wilt's other totals were 48 minutes 9-13 FG shooting, 4-12 FT shooting and no personals in a game witnessed by a crowd of 11,069.

RON POLLACK HAS UNIQUE DISTINCTION

When Ron Pollack worked the 1996 Olympics at Atlanta, he completed a triple unparalleled in basketball. Ron was a supervisor of the statistical crews for men and women at Atlanta. Previously he had worked the NCAA finals at the Spectrum in 1976 and the NBA finals here in both 1967 and again in 1983. Ron is the computer expert at the 76ers press table, being the main inputter in providing the statistics that First Union Center fans see flashed both on the main scoreboard and also the side panels.

WILT CONSISTENT DOUBLE FIGURE SCORER

In his first 621 NBA games while he was still concentrating on scoring, Wilt Chamberlain hit double figures in 628 games. The three he missed were twice caused by injuries that forced him to leave the game and once when a referee ejected him.

WILT PLAYED FOR NBA'S TWO BEST TEAMS

Do you know what the 76ers of 1966-67 and the Lakers of 1971-72 have in common? The answer: Wilt Chamberlain played for both, and the teams were 1-2 in NBA for the best records until Chicago's 72-10 mark in 1995-96. The Sixers were 68-13 and the Lakers were 69-13.

76ERS SHATTERED CLUB MARK FOR SUB-100 POINT GAMES

The 76ers shattered the club mark for holding foes under 100 points by restricting the opposition to sub-100 point games on 51 occasions in the 1997-98 campaign. The old mark of 39 was set in 1994-95. The Sixers also didn't hit 100 themselves on 64 occasions and once had a streak of 18 straight under 100 to top the old mark of eight.

ALL FOUR ABA TEAMS COACHED BY LARRY BROWN

Larry Brown has the unique distinction of being the only man to coach all four of the ABA teams that entered the NBA in 1976-77. He started off at Denver where he coached for three years (1976-79). Then he moved to New Jersey where he was the skipper for the 1981-92 and 1982-83 campaigns. Then he went southwest to San Antonio from 1988-89 to midway through the 1991-92 season. Then he completed the fourth piece by piloting Indiana from 1993-94 to 1996-97 before coming to the 76ers.

LOCAL COLLEGE GRADS BECOME NBA COACHES

ONE OF A KIND

This game was originally played on Wednesday, Nov. 8, 1978, with the 76ers beating New Jersey 137-133 in double overtime. The game was protested with 5:50 remaining in the third quarter with the 76ers leading 84-81, because the referees had erred in calling third technical fouls on New Jersey Coach Kevin Loughery and player Bernard King. The game was replayed from the 5:50 mark of the third period on Friday, March 23, 1979. Eric Money, who was with New Jersey, and Harvey Catchings and Ralph Simpson, who were with the 76ers, were involved in a trade on Feb. 7, 1979, and ended up playing for both teams in the game. The game is unique for several reasons. It's the only game in NBA history in which players played for both teams in the same game. It's the only game in NBA history in which 13 players played for one team (New Jersey). It's the only game in NBA history in which 25 men played for both teams. It's also one of the very few games in NBA history where a protest was upheld and part of a game was replayed. It MAY be the only game in pro team sports history in which players played for both teams in the same league game. The box score: Wed Nov. 8, 1978/Fri. Mar. 23, 1979 at the Spectrum, Phila.

HISTORY OF 76ERS GENERAL MANAGERS

The 76ers didn't have a general manager after the team debuted here in May 1963. Attorney Ike Richman performed some of the duties of the job between 1963 and 1966, but it wasn't until Jack Ramsay was named to the position in 1966-67 that the team had a GM. He maintained that job to 1970-71 when Don DeJardin took over. He was succeeded by Pat Williams who kept the post through 1986. John Nash took over 1986-90, then Gene Shue 1990-92, Jim Lynam 1992-94, John Lucas 1994-96 and Brad Greenberg the 1996-97 season. No one had the title in 1997-98 with Larry Brown and Billy King performing the duties. In the summer of 1998 King received the GM title.
